

A Letter of Resignation

Alyza Dubalan <alyzadubalan15@

To er@iploy.com

Cc alex.apurado@adapthealth.com; lance.arocha@adapthealth.com

Reply

Reply All

Forward

Wed 8/30/2023 5:52 PM

Greetings!

I would like to bear the news with a heavy heart that yesterday August 29, 2023 was my last day of work. This letter would serve as my formal notice about my resignation.

It is indeed a saddening farewell but since I am in pursuit of my nursing endeavor, I decided to give up my journey with this company to focus on my studies.

I am thankful for the nine fruitful months as I learned a lot and met workmates that turned into friendships that even up to this day I will forever cherish and be grateful for.

It has never been an easy decision to part ways with you, but I mustered up this much courage to go out of this zone in searching for a better opportunity outside.

I would like to spread my wings and see where I could go from here. This horizon that I am taking has been something I always wished to pursue and a dream I am excited to fulfill.

Sincerely,

Alyza Cabanada Dubalan