Good day,

Thank you for informing me. I was not able to receive the email on time because my phone got lost. I was absent due to my circumstance. I was diagnosed with the medical condition which I cannot share with you yet. I was advised to get a proper rest. I apologize for being irresponsible and was not able to provide notification.

Even though I haven't received the hard copy of Return to work order notice, I understand the sanction. Furthermore, I have decided to withdraw my employment as I am not certain when to be back and afraid that this might affect company's productivity.

Thank you for your understanding.
