To whom it may concern,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to formally submit my immediate resignation from my position at Iploy Staffing Solutions, effective today.

This decision has not been easy. Although I have already completed my OJT and am currently awaiting graduation, I have come to realize that the accumulated mental and physical exhaustion from balancing work, academics, and personal responsibilities has significantly affected my well-being and my ability to perform my duties to the standard expected of me.

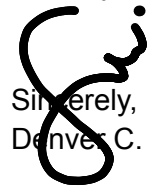

Over time, this prolonged stress has taken a toll, and I feel that continuing in my role would not allow me to contribute as effectively as I should. Additionally, my family is currently going through a difficult period following the recent passing of my grandmother, alongside other personal concerns. Given these circumstances, I believe it is necessary for me to take time off to rest, recover, and support my family.

Given all of this, I believe that stepping away from my role is the most responsible decision for both myself and the company.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude for the opportunity to be part of Iploy Staffing Solutions. I truly appreciate the support, experience, and learning I have gained during my time here.

I sincerely apologize for any inconvenience my immediate resignation may cause. I am willing to assist remotely, if possible, to help ensure a smooth transition.

Thank you for your understanding.

Sincerely,
Denver C. Dael
