Dear Management,

Please accept this letter as may formal notice of my immediate resignation. I am afraid I will have to pass this letter for personal, medical reasons.

While I could not ask for more professional opportunities than the one, I have. I cannot effectively balance by responsibilities here and give my personal life and medical condition the necessary attention that it currently needs.

I want you and everyone else to know my reasons for leaving are not related to the job, the company or work conditions. Working here in iPloy for a month is so fascinating. It's a privilege to work with many talented people whom I learned so much from them, and I'm thankful for all the opportunities it has provided me. The experiences that I had here in iPloy have been irreplaceable, and I appreciate your acceptance and understanding.

Sincerely,
