Dear Miss Gina,

I am writing to formally notify of my resignation from my position as Accounting Officer at iPloy, OPC, effective February 23, 2026.

It is with deep sadness that I part ways with the company after more than two (2) years of an incredible journey filled with meaningful experiences. This decision was not an easy one to make but after careful consideration, I believe that this is the right time for me to venture into another career path that aligns closely with my long-term endeavors. I am more than grateful for the opportunities that this company has given me, especially the trust and support I have received throughout my tenure. Working alongside such dedicated individuals and the kind of leadership you have shown is worthy of emulation as I move forward in the next chapter of my life. I have gained deep appreciation with the diversity in our team and learned valuable lessons that helped me grow and uphold excellence and integrity. Beyond professional growth, I have built friendships that I will always treasure.

I am fully committed to ensuring a smooth transition over the next thirty (30) days, and will do everything I can to support the team during this time. I sincerely wish the company and the entire team continued success in the future.

Sincerely,

Kent Alden Ronquillo
