

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to formally resign from my position at Iploy OPC, effective as today. I have enjoyed my time working here and appreciate the opportunities for growth and development that have been provided to me.

This decision was not easy, as I have genuinely valued my time with the company and have great respect for my colleagues and our collective achievements. However, after careful consideration, I have decided to leave the company because of my health problems, and also due to the rumors that I was cheating with another person from a different department, and it was really hurtful to hear even though I knew that I never did and didn't know that person. You can tell that it's not actually a big deal but for me it is, it causes anxiety and sleepless days.

Thank you for the opportunities and experiences I have gained during my time at work. I have appreciated the chance to work with such a dedicated team and have learned valuable lessons that I will carry forward in my career.
