

To The Management

March 19, 2025

Good day,

It has been my honor to be a part of your company for a lot of reasons to consider on this quite a long journey.

This is where my training officially started and it help me move forward to enhancing my ability for this business. However, due to conflict of my other priorities like taking good care of my baby, I would like to render an immediate resignation effective today March 19,2025. With due respect to the company I have been working with . As much as I would like to stick to my job with you but I value more of my child..

I am hoping for your consideration and understanding for the matter.

Respectfully yours,
