11. Why was HIPAA created?

HIPAA is created to ensure that all patients' information or history and their backgrounds are protected against any illegal transactions that might affect their privacy and security. It is very crucial that in a medical field, one information or problem or even concerns from the patient and the doctors must not be disclosed to anyone. That's why HIPAA is created. For, so that if ever the patients want to clear things up with the company they trusted, they can use their policy to increase their rights and make the company be aware of what they are doing if it is right or wrong.
