To whom it may concern,

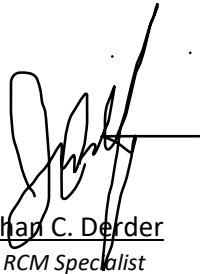

It is with reluctance that I am submitting this resignation letter.

Although I have worked at IPLOY OPC for the past 1 year and 9 months, I am unable to see myself continue to perform well in the company due to underlying health conditions and life transition.

I have utmost concerns regarding my health as notated for the past months. Additionally, my life is going through an important transition that needs my full attention and I am afraid that my health would hinder it.

I would like to take time for myself to think and recover from health issues I have been experiencing as this is also disrupting company process as I am in a lead position.

It is with regret that I ask you to accept this as my resignation from Lead RCM Specialist with iPloy OPC effective February 20, 2023.
